

Purpose-Action Framework is a practice.

Overtime,

Skills deepen, you become graceful

Reasons for things make intuitive sense

You make it your own

...but you're never "done"

Purpose-To-Action Framework is a practice.

Over time,

Skills deepen, you become graceful

Reasons for things make intuitive sense

You make it your own

...but you're never "done"

Other useful metaphors for learning

Visiting a foreign country

You need a map at first, and the language is confusing

Learning to dance

What starts horribly awkward becomes effortless and graceful

Learning to play soccer

Children learn by playing, not by reading the rule book
